A Proclamation

ELIZABETH THE SECOND, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom, Canada and Her other Realms and Territories, Queen, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith

To all to whom these presents shall come – Greeting

WHEREAS providing care and support to bereaved people helps diminish grief, and

WHEREAS bereaved people are in need of grief supports due to their reduced access to family supports because of restricted mobility and distance, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic; their reduced connection with community; the process of grief, which can be long, lonely and difficult; and stigma associated with some types of deaths, including those that involve suicide, substance-related death, or violent crime, and

WHEREAS renewing public understanding of bereavement as a natural response to the death of a loved one helps bereaved people adjust to their loss;

NOW KNOW YE THAT We do by these presents proclaim and declare that May 30, 2021, shall be known as in the Province of British Columbia.

“Bereavement Day”

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent and the Great Seal of Our Province of British Columbia to be hereunto affixed.
